GUVNL CLARIFIES

‘Spike in power bills is due to cumulative meter readings’

ADITIRAJA
VADODARA, JULY 7

WITH COVID-19 lockdown curbs now eased, the Gujarat Urja Vikas Nigam Limited (GUVNL) has restarted its activity of reading consumer meters, which was suspended during the lockdown. However, several consumers have raised complaints of being over-billed. GUVNL maintains that the higher amounts are because of cumulative meter readings.

Residents in Vadodara's Chhani area staged a protest last week, while many others took to social media to point out the amount as being "spiked". A resident from the group of people who protested in Vadodara last week, said, "The amount in the first bill was much higher than usual for those months (in previous years). We did not receive any reply from Madiya Gujarat Vij Company Ltd (MGVCL, owned by GUVNL) officials and so we staged a protest. The government announced that there will be a minor relief. Although we were not expecting any major cut in the amount of the bill, the steep bill was a surprise to most." Consumers from other zones of the utility have taken to social media to post photos of their bills, terming the amount as "excessive".

However, officials of the utilities said that the lockdown meant more usage in most homes as all family members were indoors.

Shahmeena Husain, Managing Director of GUVNL, said that the protests and complaints from consumers was a result of the misinformed perspective that the electricity board has over-charged arbitrarily.

"Our meter readers could not venture out for almost three months due to the lockdown. For our 1.5 crore customers, the reading is carried out in two cycles and each of the cycles of 75 lakh consumers takes about a month-and-a-half. So, while some may have had their meters last read in February, others may have been read in March. After March 15, readings could not be taken. So, the bills that are being dispatched now are after reading meters from June onwards. These are cumulative bills and therefore, higher than usual," Husain said.

Husain said that the executives have begun reading meters since June and whatever physical copies of the bill have been handed out, the amount generated is from the actual consumption.

Husain said, "We have a very robust software system that helps the executive on field to generate spot billing via GPS system, as well as prints it on the spot."

3 new oil jetties at Kandla to double liquid cargo handling

AVINASH NAIR
AHMEDABAD, JULY 7

THE DEENDAYAL Port Trust (DPT) will develop three new oil jetties at a cost of over Rs 550 crore, which will help double its present liquid cargo handling capacity at Kandla in Gujarat.

DPT, one of the 12 major ports in India, operates six oil jetties at Kandla which can handle 12 million metric tonne of liquid cargo per annum. "We have a lot of oil jetties coming up at Kandla. We already have six. Two are under construction and tenders for three more have been floated," said Sanjay Mehta, chairman of DPT, which floated three tenders for constructing oil jetties number 9, 10 and 11 recently.

"At present, liquid cargo forms 60 per cent of the total cargo volumes handled by DPT. With new jetties coming up, this capacity will go up," he added. The liquid cargo handled by DPT at Kandla includes petroleum, oil and lubricant products, edible oil, phosphoric acid and LPG.

While jetty number 9 & 10 will cost around Rs 100-150 crore each, oil jetty number 11 will cost over Rs 356 crore. Two more jetties with 5 million metric tonne capacity are under construction. With the addition of these five jetties that are proposed and under construction, the total liquid cargo handling capacity at Kandla will go up to 24.5 million metric tonne per annum.
